Grade Level 4: Content Area: Visual Arts

Curriculum

Course Description: The fourth grade visual art curriculum provides experiences for students to explore their faculty as visual communicators. Visual messages have power to inform, educate or persuade. The success of visual communication is determined by the artist’s ability to command the tools of visual art. Students are provided with experiences to develop their skills, knowledge of elements and principles of art, and awareness of their own visual perception.

Standard 1.1
The Creative Process: All students will demonstrate an understanding of the elements and principles that govern the creation and composition of visual art.
Big Ideas: Active participation in the arts leads to a comprehensive understanding of the imaginative and creative process.
Essential Questions What provocative questions will foster inquiry, understanding, and transfer of learning?	Enduring Understandings What will students understand about the big ideas?
How do the elements of art and principles of design help us to appreciate art? How do art and design enhance functionality and improve our quality of living? What does it mean when we say that the elements of art and principles of design are universal?	Students will understand that... Students will use the elements of art and principles of design to communicate ideas. Students will identify the different ways the elements and principles of art enhance functionality and improve our quality of living. The success of visual communication is determined by the artist’s ability to command the tools of visual art. Recognize that the elements of art and principles of design are universal.
Areas of Focus: Proficiencies (Cumulative Progress Indicators)	Examples, Outcomes, Assessments
Students will: 1.1.5.D.1 Identify elements of art and principles of design that are evident in everyday life.	Instructional Focus: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Identify elements of art and principles of design that are evident in everyday life. • Begin to understand that ideas for visual expression and design come from many different sources • Describe the visual environment and visual information in daily life

1.1.5.D.2 Compare and contrast works of art in various mediums that use the same art elements and principles of design.

- View contemporary and historical art work
- Gradually incorporate the vocabulary of visual art into their discussions
- Compare and contrast works of art in various mediums that use the same art elements and principles of design.

Sample Assessments:

- Print an image of a pine branch creating texture as seen in nature.
- Observe and discuss Japanese prints of similar natural objects. What elements of art and principles of design are employed even in such a simple composition.
- Draw of a group of people. Create a sense of depth and space by overlapping—foreground, middle ground, background.
- Create a carpet design in the Native American “Burntwater Creek” tradition. Use geometric shapes that can be flipped, reflected or turned to create a balanced and symmetric composition.

Instructional Strategies:

Interdisciplinary Connections

- Math – transformations: flips, reflections, turns
- Social Studies – Native American culture.

Technology Integration

- iPhoto slide shows of nature, artists’ work
- PowerPoint slide shows of student artwork from previous years or from other sources
- Mirrors to create reflections, etc.
- Computer applications: MicroWorlds

Media Literacy Integration

- Describe the qualities of Japanese prints. Chose words to describe the mood they create.
- Contrast this to the images of Roy Lichtenstein who also includes similar elements of modern

1.3.5.D.1 Work individually and collaboratively to create two- and three dimensional works of art that make cohesive visual statements and that employ the elements of art and principles of design.

Instructional Focus:

The elements of art and principles of design can be applied in an infinite number of ways to express personal responses to creative problems.

Contextual clues to culturally specific thematic content, symbolism, compositional approach, and stylistic nuance are prevalent in works of art throughout the ages.

Each of the genres of visual art (e.g., realism, surrealism, abstract/nonobjective art, conceptual art, and others) is associated with appropriate vocabulary and a stylistic approach to art making.

The characteristics and physical properties of the various materials available for use in art-making present infinite possibilities for potential application.

1.3.5.D.2 Identify common and distinctive characteristics of artworks from diverse cultural and historical eras of visual art using age appropriate stylistic terminology (e.g., cubist, surreal, optic, impressionistic), and experiment with various compositional approaches influenced by these styles.

Sample Assessments:

- Create a food painting in the style of Wayne Thiebaud in the Pop Art genre.
- After the study of Australian Aboriginal art, create a dot or x-ray painting employing leaf shapes.
- In honor of Chinese New Year, students learn about the art of bamboo painting using traditional tools and techniques.
- Create a small clay vessel using the coil method.
- Make a cardboard loom, and create a tapestry weaving
- Create an early American cornhusk doll.
- Create a puppet using paper-engineering methods for 3D constructions. Use it to act out a story.

1.3.5.D.4 Differentiate drawing, painting, ceramics, sculpture, printmaking, textiles, and computer imaging by the physical properties of the resulting artworks, and experiment with various art media and art mediums to create original works of art.

1.3.5.D.5 Collaborate in the creation of works of art using multiple art media and art mediums, and present the completed works
