GET TO KNOW SEPAC

Raising a child is a challenge in the best of circumstances, but when you're caring for a child with physical, emotional, or educational problems, it can seem overwhelming at times. That's where SEPAC can help!

SEPAC is the Special Education Parent Advisory Committee.

The Summit Special Education Parent Advisory Committee is the parent-led group that supports and educates parents and guardians of children with unique needs and challenges.

The Summit Special Education Parent Advisory Committee is also looking to expand its leadership group. This is a great opportunity for interested parents to get involved. The committee is looking to build on its success of being involved in special education matters in Summit. While helping your child and other families, you can be part of the team to help determine topics and speakers for parent meetings; provide information on resources for families; help coordinate parent-to-parent support for new parents; expand the committee's e-communication and web presence; and be a sounding board for the district on matters that may affect your child. Please contact sepac4@gmail.com for more information on getting involved.

Mission Statement: The Special Education Parents Advisory Committee (SEPAC) is a parent-directed resource that supports and educates parents/guardians of children with academic, physical and/or social challenges.
